last bombardment of insurgent war

Lisbon, Aug. 14.

Paris, Aug. 15.

Rebel and loyalist hatred has been whipped to fever pitch. They are fighting savagely for supremacy throughout Spain and the humanising code of normal warfare has been forgotten.

Battles of importance are raging in many areas: First, Malaga; second, San Sebastian; thirdly, the Estremadura country on the Portuguese frontier; fourthly, in north-eastern Saragossa; fifthly, in Teruel province; sixthly, at Oviedo.

In addition, further minor clashes, in which it is possible scores may be killed, are progressing throughout the nation. Meanwhile, there is every indication that this intensified warfare may develop decisive action.

The Government is anxiously watching the Estramadura front, due to the fact that the rebels assert Badajoz is on the verge of surrender.

But more portentious for Spain; than the battles were the natures of the conflicts to-day, the merciless reprisals on both sides, the reported execution of some prisoners and the threat to execute hundreds of others. It is announced here that General Joaquin Fanjul, and his aide, Colonel Jose Fernandez, will be courtmartialled here Saturday.

The Government states officially that its troops have occupied Porto Blanco and have captured 200 rebel Civil Guards.

"WE CHOOSE PEACE"

New York, Aug. 14. America's determination to isolate herself completely from war was emphasised by President Roosevelt in a striking address to a summer conference at Chantaugua.

The President expressed himself as more concerned and less cheerful about international, world conditions than America's immediate domestic prospects. A bitter experience was in China, it can with equal logic be witnessed by the fact that not only the-spirit-but-the-letter-of-Internutional agreements were being violated with impunity and without regard for the simple principle of honour.

President Roosevelt recounted America's efforts to assist international movements to prevent war, and added that when it became evident that no general naval limitation treaty could be signed, because of the objections of others, they concluded with Britain and France a conditional treaty which, much to his regret, had already shown signs of ineffectiveness. They shunned political commitments which might entangle

SPANISH FOREIGN LEGION ATTACKS China Allegedly Aim of Japanese ANGRY ATTACK BY S'HAI JOURNAL

REGIMENTATION OF MAN-POWER FOR NEW ARMIES

Shanghai, Aug. 15.

The interview given by Mr. Frederick Moore, an American employee of the Japanese Foreign Office, on his arrival in Tokyo from Washington, has provoked a storm of vehement protest from Americans, as well as Chinese, in Shanghai. The version of the interview published by the Japan Advertiser has just been received here.

The American-owned China Weekly Review devotes a lengthy leading article in to-day's issue in refutation of Mr. Moore's description of the American viewpoint with respect to China and the Far Eastern problem generally.

"Mr. Moore's motive in deprecating America's trade position in China is exposed in his reference to 'the highly profitable' nature of trade between Japan and the United States, some 90 per cent. of which, according to his statement, is mutually profitable. But here again he did not tell the whole story."

The leading article continues: "Ap- [plying his argument about the cost of maintaining the American forces? pointed out that America's greatly -increased - naval - expenditures, - necessituted by the expansion of naval and l air services and the stationing of a fleet in Pacific waters, are due entirely to the disturbances in Pacific caused by Japan's, scrapping of treaties and her military and territorial expansion in Asia.

MORGET the cares that this day has brought to you.

Take a tight grip on yourself and concentrate.

Does your bath water run out in a right-hand or a left-hand spiral? If you've recovered from that cold shower we'll continue on a matter that is causing some humming and hawing among the scientists.

Members of the British Rugby Football League team, now touring Australasia, have noticed that their bath water swirls down the outlet pipe anti-clockwise. Some of the players said that in England the motion was clockwise. They drew learned comment from Dr. Edgar Booth, lecturer in physics at Sydney University. CIRCULATING ATMOSPHERE

Dr. Booth suggested (Reuter reports) that the direction of the swirl might correspond with that of the earth's atmosphere, which "circulates in opposite directions in the north and south hemispheres." Sinking deeper into the subject here is the opinion of Mr. A. H. Awbery, of the Natural Physics Laboratory at Teddington. "I don't think the question has ever been investigated scientifically. Probably in most cases the direction of the swirl is purely fortuitous and caused by any slight movement the water may already have had imparted "But everything else being equal, the problem resembles that of a pin balanced on its point. Something must decide the direction in which it will full. This, in the case of the water, would probably be the air currents set up by the earth's spin. JUST A DECEPTION

"Actually these currents do not move in opposite directions in the north and south hemispheres. They only appear to do so. It is as if you looked at the movement of a watch hand from above or from below.

"The bath water in fact swirts in the same direction in Methourne on in London (provided it is not disturbed arbitrarily); but we are looking at it from different points in relation to the earth's axis.

£1,000,000 DEAL BY GAUMONT

New York, Aug. 1.

CUBJECT to ratification by Mr. Nicholas Schenck, president of the Loews Incorporated Theatre chain, arrangements are believed to have been completed between Mr. Joseph Schenck, chairman of Twentieth Century-Fox Films, and Mr. Isidore Ostrer, president of Gaumont-British Picture Corporation, for the sale of Mr. Ostrer's 25 per cent. holding of Gaumont-British shares for £1,000,000.

Negotiations have been proceeding at Los Angeles, and to-day Mr. Schenck left for New York to consult with his brother and Sydney Kent, president of Twentieth Century. Mr. Ostrer will join them to-morrow.

Voting control is by the articles of association in the hands of the British shareholders. If, the deal goes through Loews will control 25 per cent. of the Gaumont-British shares and Twentieth Century-Fox (through their interest in Metropolitan and Bradford Trust, the holding company which controls Gaumont-British) 49 per cent. The Ostrers will retain 26 per cent.

BRITAIN AND JAPAN INTERNATIONAL LOAN FOR CHINA NOT LIKELY

London, Aug. 14. Although the problem of improvement of Anglo-Japanese relations is occupying serious attention in British circles, it is believed that the basis on which British and Japanese co-operation can be based has not yet been found.

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches, to-morrow, August 16, will be

The Golden Text will be: "Bless

the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy p.m. disenses," (Psalms 103: 2-3). Amongst others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "God be merciful unto us and bless us: and cause his face to shine upon us. That thy way may known up on earth, saving health among all nations.

O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the people righteously and govern the nations upon earth. My soul longeth, yea even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will, give grace and glory; no good thing will be withhold from them that walk uprightly. O, Lord of Hosts, blessed

A BROKEN DOWN SYSTEM.

This is a condition (or disease) to which many names are given but few really understand. It is simply weakness—a break down as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being alseplesaness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vigour, vital strength and energy to throw off these morbid feelings, and as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of THE NEW FRENOH REMEDY. CINEMA NOTES

A gala night-at-the famous La Scala Opera House, mecca of opera lovers in Milan, offers a thrilling and colourful spectacle in "The Melody Lingers On," Edward Small's new Reliance romantic drama which brings Josephine Hutchinson, George Houston and a great cast to the King's Theatre to-day. The opera presented is "Carmen," and the magisteent baritone voice of Houston, the handsome young American opera star who is Hollywood's most sensational new discovery, is heard in the famous Torendor song. The in-terior of the Opera House was nuthentically reproduced down to the minutest detail. The story, based on 16.40r the novel by Lowell Brentano, tells 16.48b/50a of the war-shattered romance of a 16.55b/57a young American music student and a famous European operatic star. Her lover is killed in action and the girl puts her baby in a convent. Years later, when she has become a son had been adopted by a wealthy family. She cultivates them in an effort to steer the boy's future toward a singing career, and the story proceeds to a thrilling climax. Others in the cast are John Halliday, Mona Barrle, William Harrigan, David Scott, Walter Kingsford and Ferdinand Gottschalk. The screen play and diplogue are by Ralph Block and Philip Dunne. BARBER WHO HAD RHEUMATISM

Tells How He Carried On

A barber who had been a "martyr to rhoumatism" writes:---

"I have been a martyr to rheumatism for some ten years. For five years I was so offected that it was with the greatest difficulty I was able to carry on my business. I may say am a barber by trade. After having tried numerous remedies, I was finally advised to try. Kruschen. I am pleased to say that after having used Kruschen for some twelve months I am now freer from aches and pains than I have been for some ten years. In fact, I consider I am cured of rheumatism thanks to Kruschen Salts."-W. M.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are the most effectual solvents of urle held known to medical science. They swiftly dull the sharp edges of the painful crystals, then convert them into a harmless solution. Other ingredients of these Salts have a stimulating effect upon the kidneys, and assist them to expel the dissolved uratic needles through the natural channel.

YOUNGER GOVERNORS WANTED

He advised the Postmasler-General to make a clean sweep of the present Board of Governors and appoint new Governors, all under 50, and if possible half of them under 30,

Commenting on the employment of eye-witnesses to give a summary of Parliamentary proceedings, he said that one night an eye-witness broad-cast a statement about Mr. Attlee which was unworthy of a public servant in any country. He challenged the right of the Government to allow the B.B.C. to send men to the House of Commons, and for those men to go outside and give their opinion as to whether what members had said was sheer rubbish whether the manner in which they sald it was right, and whether they spoke too long or in bad English.

Mr. Marklew (Soc., Coine Valley) said that Spiritualists had been refused the opportunity of broadcasting their opinions. Members of a minority were entitled so long as they entertained their views with sincerity to have equal opportunity with others for the dissemination of their views. He asked that Spiritualists should not be denied the right given to others to express their views on equal terms:

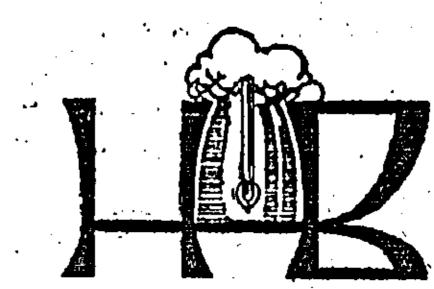

MAIN ISSUES SHELVED

Mr. Attlee (leader of the Opposition), winding up the debate, said the Government were shelving some of the main issues raised by the whole question of broadcasting and the position of the B.B.C. As a member of the Ullswater Committee, he had hoped that their Report would have received more adequate consideration.

Mr. Attlee said the influence of the Government over the B.B.C. should be an open one and not a hole-and-corner one. There was a tendency to have a certain flow of influence over the B.B.C. emanating from various Government offices, not in the form of orders, but of suggestions.

The Governors should on the whole be much younger, and be able to keep in touch with the younger genera-

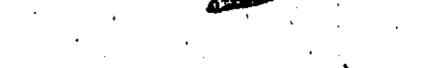

There was a feeling about the work of the B.B.C. which suggested that the public was given what the Corporation thought was "nice." "Occasionally," he went on, "there is a tendency for what they think to be nice to be perhaps a little too Victorian. It may get as for as the Edwardian or the Georgian, but I do not think it has got as far as Edward VIII." (Laughter.)

Critic Says Haig Cabinet Passchendaele

MILITARY critic Captain Liddell Hart accuses the late Earl Haig of deliberately lying to the War Cabinet in order to gain their assent to the attack on Passchen-

It is some ten years since the Generalissimo set out from Canton on his. memorable Northern expedition, since when he has not, until now returned. Much water, has flowed under the bridges since that time. But for the need of his guidance in more pressing problems in the North, it may be assumed that Marshal Chiang would have come South much earlier, for the situation created by the semi-independent status of the South-Western provinces, had long called for action. events have turned out, Southern leaders, by sistence in their recent campaign -obviously directed against Chiang Kai-shek—contributed to their own undoing. Happily, Kwangtung position has been straightened out, but it would seem that the Kwangsi recalcitrants are disposed to resist the authority of the Central Government. It is apparent, start Brooklande has been hamperhowever, both from the nature of the military and naval preparations and the coming South of the Generalissimo, that the Nanking leaders are in no mood to tolerate further insubordination. The facilities which the Brooklands motor-racing track has offered to motorists and motor-cyclists have been responsible for a considerable share in the development. of the technique of British motorracing. When the ground was first prepared in 1906 the standard of British motoring was comparatively low-due partly to the fact that there was then no suitable racing track in the country. From the time the track was opened British motor-racing rapidly improved. The track, which was built by Mr. and Mrs. Locke King, was therefore designed with broad circuit three and a quarter miles long, intended to allow for speeds of up to 150 miles an hour. included a test hill which, though short in length, contained gradients capable of testing both climbing and braking capacities. Brooklands is situated about twenty miles from London. The land has now changed hands, but fortunately it is going to continue to serve both its existing purposes—a racing track and an aerodrome. Moreover, considerable I now capital is to be expended on the ground. This is a great relief to all concerned, for from the ed by lack of funds; the vosts of construction and maintenance having necessarily been enormous. ANNOUNCEMENT OF POPULAR RADIO ITEM

The Gloucester Hotel Is Going Glamorous

TIUNDREDS of yards of calico shroud the top floor of the Gloucester Hotel.

To reach the typhoon bar, the reading room or the dining room, you walk down laneways of this material.

Yesterday, I took a peep behind the calico scenes, and made some discreet enquiries.

When all that material is taken away, you'll find a new Gloucester social centre.

Practically the entire floor is being renovated and redecorated. What was once the old dining room will become a larger and more modern ballroom.

Those unsightly pillars, which prevented successful social gatherings in the past, are doomed to extinction. Walls are being torn down to make the room one of the largest unpillared ballrooms in the Colony. Over on the harbour side, the famed typhoon bar is to become a typhoon lounge. I'm tipping there'll be a classy jazz band, cabaret items and de luxe entertaining when the renovators move out and the socialites move in on October 3, date tentatively car-marked for opening.

NOTHER name has been taken from Philharmonic's list of Probables and added to list of Positives for "Maid of the Mountains" leading cast.

Ann Winter was first choice, there being no argument about her right to play role of Maid.

Now Jack Grenham, who made his Philharmonic debut with Ann Winter in "A Country Girl" last year, has been chosen to play Tonio.

With those two as solid foundation, Philharmonic will rest content, will not choose other leading players until after first rehearsal on August in many years, and success is assured before rehearsals start.

Jose Collins played original Maid in London, Gladys Moncrieff in Australia. In both places, "Maid the -- Mountains" --- had --- phenomenal-- Rudolf Friml has returned suddenly to Hollywood. Here is the reason.

Ale came out to Hongkong four onths ago to resume previous search for "Ideal Chinese Girl" to play leading role in his latest oper-etta, "Sing Song Girl", which has locale in Hongkong's West Point (old style).

Whilst here Friml got urgent message from Columbia Pictures.

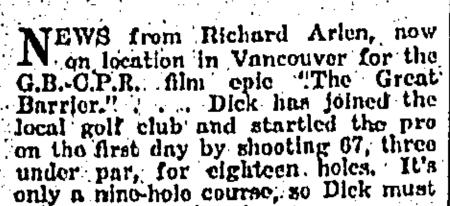

Would he consent to return to Hollywood, compose music for new Grace Moore film, to be directed by Frank Capra?

He would. He did. Meanwhile, search for Ideal Girl has again been postpened.

Hollywood version of "Romeo and Juliet" sends film correspondents on the spot into a mild ecstasy. One review, which we wouldn't alter for words, is cabled as follows:-

Romeo previowel to-night. Four Sonsational histrionic high for Norma Shearer. Absolute fidelity to Shakespeare dialogue maintained except for deletion, of moribund phraseology. Atmosphere convincing. LAST MINUTE RUSH OF ENTRIES IS CAUSE OF DELAY

TO the 603 readers who sent in entries in the ZBW Popular Items Contest, apologies for not being able to announce the winner in this issue.

Delay is due to unexpectedly large number of entries received, especially in closing hours of competition, when office was flooded with hundreds of letters.

Few people can have any idea of the task involved in carefully checking these coupons.

Not only has the aggregate poll to be totalled on the points basis (ten points being awarded for No. 1 vote, nine points for No. 2 vote and so on down to No. 10 vote), but when this is done each coupon has to be checked in order to ascertain which competitor is nearest the popular verdick

I hope to announce name of winner in "Telegraph" early next

Nearly 150 of the 603 entries contained suggestions for the improvement of ZBW programmes, although this was not a compulsory feature of the competition.

Some of these suggestions run to three and four typewritten sheets. Great bulk of suggestions are of constructive character, not merely criticism for criticism's sake, and they should prove of real assistance to ZBW when they are tabulated in this office. Work of tabulating these suggestions is herculean task, and will occupy considerable time. They will be classified and published from time to time after name of winner of competition is announced. This page attaches more importance to these suggestions than to the competition itself, realising that many people, when competing for a prize, might arrange their preferences according to what they conceive to be the popular tasta rather than to give their own ideas of what an ideal programme should be. Nevertheless, result of poll will be extremely interesting. One particularly gratifying feature is fact that over 500 competitors answered three non-compulsory questions regarding early morning programmes, relays from short wave stations other than Daventry, and reaction to ZBW programmes. Although result cannot definitely be known until count is complete, it appears that answers to first two questions will be affirmative, answer to third question negative.

Watch next week's "Telegraph's" for preliminary announcement of result of entire competition.

NEW short-wave transmitter operating on the 25-metre broadcast band has started operations from Salgon, Indo-China. This new station is being received well in Hongkong. You can hear it testing each evening at about 7 o'clock, transmission consisting of English, French, Chinese and Annamite musical programmes. The announcements from this stution are made in English.

The Italian station from Rome has extended its morning schedule and its morning transmission on 25.4 metres is now being continued until about 9 o'clock.

Reception of this station on 25.4 metres is found to be better than on 31.10 metres.

It can be received on the former wavelength on a dial reading just below that of the French station Radio

The new Observation Test is catching on. Readers found it interesting last week. To-day is given another set of boys and girls who have grown up to become adults whose names everybody knows.

Clues are given beneath each picture.

WEEK-END PROBLEMS

By Hubert Phillips PROBLEM I. THE SPORTS

At our village sports, there were four finalists in each of our five flat races. And in each case one of the four was one of the Squire's five sons. The Squire, a keen betting man, was asked what odds he would offer that at least one of his boys won a race. He replied: "Well, I know nothing about form in any of the races. But I'll offer four to one on."

Assuming that in each race all competitors have an equal chance of winning.

Is this a generous offer?

PROBLEM II. BRIDGE_AT_MR._

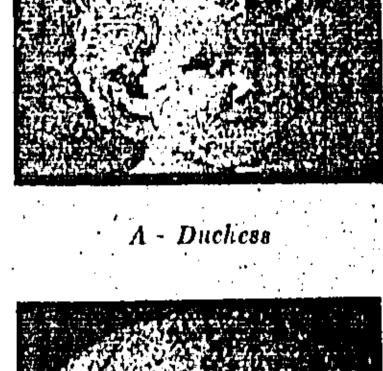

NORTH'S

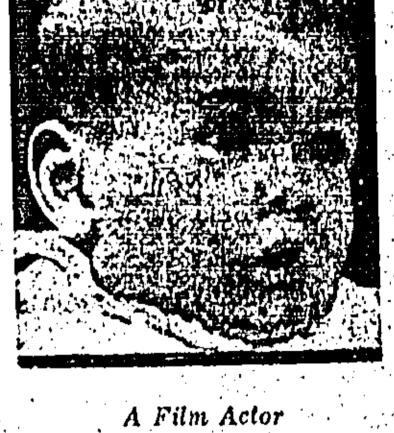

Mr. North gave a Bridge party. He invited his friends, Messrs. East, South and West. The table was so placed that the players sat respectively North, East, South and West. The players cut for partners and seats each rubber. Nine rubbers were played, and al the end of the evening the following facts were noted: (1) In no rubber had any player occupied a sent corresponding to his name. (2) The senting of the four players at the table had in no two rubbers been the same. (3) Mr. West had won every rubber.

How many rubbers did Mr North win?

PROBLEM III. WORD SQUARE

You didn't send in quite so many entries for last week's Competition, in which you were required to cut out illustrations from any part of last Saturday's "Telegraph", and paste them on paper and cardboard so as to make a complete picture. Some of you merely cut out one picture, instead of combining several. However, some good efforts were sent in, and after going through these very carefully and allowing for age and originality of idea, I find that the best Senior entry was that of Tony Green (aged 12), 1 Peak Road; who sent in a marticularly clever piece of work, which is reproduced elsewhere on this page.

Some of the Juniors also sent in excellent effonts, Some of the Juniors also sent in excellent effonts, the best of which was that of Violetta dos Remedios (aged 7), 21 Jordan Road, Kowloon. This was a scene in which "Salesman Sam," a housewife and a G.E.C. rafrigerator figured. Will the winners call at the "Telegraph" office for Specially commended for good work are Carrie Alves, Maisie Law, Claudie Gorla, Fernando Alves and Henry Lau among the Seniors; and Neva Green, Alfred Lau and Tom Lau among the Juniors.

Now, children, as you are so fond of Painting Competitions, I'm giving you another this week. When you have coloured this bowl of tulips with your paints or crayons, cut out the picture and paste it smoothly on paper or cardboard, adding your name, address and age. Take special paints to get the colours right.
There will again be two prizes—one for children from 10 to 14, and the other for those under 10. Address your entries to Uncle Eddie, c/o "Hongkong Telegraph," so as to reach him not later than 4 p.m. on Wednesday. Now, kiddles, make a good effort this

Film Tiger Woman And Rival Fight Feud Over Banker

By C. V. R. THOMPSON

New York, Aug. 8.

REMBRANT

BITTER feud over an American millionaire was fought in court to-day by two former stage beauties, blonde Ninon Bunyea—"Tiger Woman" of the silent films-and red-haired Patricia Reynolds, daughter of an Indian Army officer and direct descendant of Sir Joshua Reynolds, the artist.

Miss Reynolds was for two years secretary to Charles W. Beall, vice-president of the Chase National Bank until he retired to join Frank Buck in "bring 'em back alive" ventures.

She alleged that Miss Bunyea, Milo Claimed fifth and Man remin the millionaire's secretary, was keeping her employer prisoner on his Long Island estate by threatening him with armed guards and keeping him constantly intoxicat-

Miss Reynolds, whose father is Major Francis Henry Reynolds, of Tipperary, said that last Friday she left Beall's estate for a few hours. When she returned she met a rough fellow who introduced himself as Edward O'Daniels.

But do not get alarmed. The world "suppressed" is used only in the technical sense. It loes not mean that these valuable household gadgets must be dispensed with, but only that they must be prevented from causing a noise in near-by wireless sets.

This decision has been reached, after three! years, by the Committee on Electrical Interference which has now presented its report to the Postmaster-General following unanimous endorsement by the committee of the Institution of Electrical Engineers.

It is expected that Major Tryon, the P.M.G., will make a statement in the House of Commons before the end of this month, in which he will reveal that the Committee recommends the introduction of a law making it illegal to cause electrical interference with radio reception.

Just What are "Clean" Teeth?

THE most careful brushing cannot give you absolutely clean teeth. Tiny food particles hide in what is called the Danger Zone of the mouth—the spaces between teeth, imperfections in the enamel and where teeth meet gums. The toothbrush cannot possibly remove all such particles and they remain to ferment, attract bacteria and form Germ Acids, which in turn bring decay.

Keep your teeth clean in the true sense of the word with Squibb Dental Cream. It is antacid and neutralizes the harmful Germ Acids. It fights decay scientifically.

Squibb Dental Cream brings out the spark. ling, natural whiteness of your teeth without damage to enamel or gums. It is absolutely safe. Use it with confidence for Squibb is a Name you can Trust.

COATES IS IDEAL NO. 1 FOR INTERPORT BOWLS

Draws Brilliantly In Championship Final

UNIQUE RECOVERY BY GUTIERREZ

Apparent Walk-Over Becomes Exciting Struggle

(By "Veritas")

A recovery, well-nigh unique in the annals of the Hongkong lawn bowls singles championship was effected yesterday by L. A. Gutierrez, when he met A. E. Coates in the final of the 1936 competition. He converted what appeared to be an inevitable "walkover" for his opponent, into one of the most exciting matches ever seen at the Kowloon Bowling Green Club.

Coates played like an ideal No. 1. But Gutterrez, confronted with the and on such form he appears to be task of rolling up the jack for the 25th head, decided on a full head, and the right man for this position up in it was this, I think, which settled his Shanghai. chances. He had been bowling with increasing accuracy on medium heads, but he had never been very happy about the very wide backhand draw on the full head at the Austin Road end of the green. The draw on this hand was not only wide, but shurp, calling for a late green. Not the sort of a hand with which to lay two or three dead shots.

For Motorists

OW do you buy petrol? A gallon or two at a time, or do you fill the tank when you call at a filling station?

One way leads to more M.P.G.; the other to extravagance.

And the extravagant motorists are those who buy petrol two or three gallons at a time.

This point I discussed recently with a number of motorists, and, fortunately, two automobile engineers, one the head of the research department of one of our biggest petrol companies, were present to give authoritative opinions.

Now the man who puts two gallons of petrol at a time into his tank does not get one-fifth the mileage of the man who fills up with ten gallons, always providing, of course, they have the same type of car and cover the same route.

I have made a series of tests, driving a Morris "12" coupe over the same route daily for a week. With a full tank the car averages 24 m.p.g.; two gallons at a time, the consumption increases to 22 m.p.g.

One Reason

Not a great difference, I agree, but on an annual mileage of 15,000 the saving would work out at about 16s., which is not to be despised. With certain bars the difference would be more apparent, especially over a longer period than my test.

One of the reasons is thispetrol mixed with air evaporates. and in a nearly empty tank there is more opportunity for it to do so.

PETROL-WISE?

Now I know that evaporation will take place only according to the area of the surface of petrol in contact with the air, and this is usually much the same whether the tank is almost empty or full, but, while the petrol is being swished about in the tank by the movement of the car, there is more opportunity for evaporation with only a few gallons of fuel than with a full tank.

It was on this particular point that the discussion first arose, and this was the view propounded by Mr. Georges Roesch, designer of Talbot cars, and one of the most knowledgeable engineers in the

"The evaporation in the tank is more a theoretical than a practical possibility, but undoubtedly it does take place in some alight measure. The motorist who buys petrol in relatively small quantities is wasting it because of frequent stops at filling stations, and the loss because of drips from pump nozzles and so on." Mr. Leslie Callingham, manager of the technical research department of one of the big petrol companles, told me that the evaporation theory was not sound.

Great Mistake

He pointed out that it was just as great a mistake to have the tank absolutely full as to have it nearly empty, since a certain amount of fuel will be thrown out of the petrol filler venthole.

On this matter of petrol consumption the motorist who drives with his head as well as his feet and hands will not only go his way more safely but also more cheaply. Here are some more m.p.g. figures. A 24-h.p. car driven at a steady 20 m.p.h. covered 20 miles per gallon; 15.9 m.p.g. at 50 m.p.h. and 8 m.p.g. at 70 m.p.h. Speed,

Big Victory

Greatest victory of all in his campaign to make Britain's roads safer is Mr. Hore-Belisha's success in persuading Parliament to place all Grade A roads (about 4,500 miles of the 78,000 in this country) under the direct control of the Ministry of Transport.

For years it has been apparent that Britain has needed a central authority for the main roads. How

ANOTHER "Morris"

SUCCESS

TO motor manufacturer li the world provides such complete range of low priced cars as the Morris concern. With the recent introduction of the new 14 hip, model, Morris cars range from 8 h.p. to 25 h.p., and the price list commences at £118 for the smallest to £315 for the biggest.

The eight different chassis with a variety, of conchwork provide a car that will surely suit every pocket. Recently I have been testing the latest 25 h.p. model. I have a personal interest in this car, for the first one built I and others drove across Europe to Stamboul in a searching test of a new car which had been produced in reply to the American "threat." The Intest' model is quite an in provement on the exceptionally fine car we drove for thousands of miles of bnd roads last year. Notable improvement has been made as regards power output and silence of the engine.

It seems essential when considering a big car of this type to compare it with the popular American car. The "Twenty-Five" Morris is cheaper than most of the American cars, and has qualities missing in the cars from across the ocean.

Good-Looking

The 25 h.p. Morris saloon is an exceptionally good looking grnuine five-senter in which comfort, visibility (a bad point with most of the American models) and springing get top marks. The steering is exceptionally good and brakes are fully up to their

In addition, the brakes, which are Lockheed, require little pedal pressure and are smooth in operation. It is definitely a top-gear car.

'Acceleration is exceptionally good when it is realised that this is a fairly heavy car, solidly built and fitted with many extras, including a luggage grid, hydraulic four-wheel jacks, sunshine roof, spot light, and other fittings which the owner-driver regards as necessities to-day, and yet are rarely fitted to American cars. The car will accelerate from 10 to 30 m.p.h. in six seconds, and from standing start from 50 m.p.h. through the gears, the time required is 16 and three-fifth seconds. Petrol consumption during my tour averaged 18-19 m.p.g. The "Twenty-five" clocked a timed speed of 76 m.p.h., and at this speed the car was fully in control, and the engine was reasonably quiet and unstressed. The six-cylinder engine has a capacity of 3,485 c.c. and the annual tax is £18.15s. The price of the sliding

NEWS IN PHOTOGRAPHS

At the annual London Hippodrome matinee in aid of the Queen's Hospital for Children, Bethnal Green, London, only children from two to seven years took part. The picture shows twin sisters arriving in their powder pull costumes.

Even the animals were troubled by the strong heat in the United States and sought relief where they could find it. The cattle in the photograph above are showing stampeding to a river. Many were drowned.

CHINESE ART IN -- HONGKONG

The Work of Six Artists

A visit to the third exhibition of the Chinese Fine Arts Club, of which the smaller pictures were shown under the auspices of the Hongkong Working Artists' Gulld at the Gloucester Building last week, and the larger scrolls at the China Building, which is still available up to Sunday gives us an opportunity of turning our thoughts away from the usual run of Hongkong entertainments. The origin of the Club is sketched in the preface to the catalogue, but I may mention that the six men whose work has been displayed are all celebrated artists of modern China. They were all pupils of the late master-painter, Mr. Ko Ki-foon, twelve connections, including whose untimely death a few years ago was mourned by many lovers of his

After the Yuen period, through the teen to score nine. Ming to the Ching Dynasty there was a gradual decline, due to the fashlon of imitating the masters of former days. Facility of imitation was everything and originality entirely secondary. One would not be far wrong if one called that the Dark

Age of Chinese painting. The birth of the Chinese Republic was synchronous with a new movement in Art, which may be said to have come to life with the Revolution. Canton, which was the birthplace of the Revolution, became the centre of the new artistic ideas, and the new environment inspired artists like the brothers Ko, Chen Si-yun, Pow Siu-yau and others. By some coincidence these men simultaneously, experimented along almost the same line,-to revive the spirit of the Tang and Sung Dynastics by applying more DEATH OF MRS. N. from Nature. Many of the younger artists of modern China became followers of the new movement. Chen Si-yun has turned to active politics, but has not abandoned his art. Ho Chat-yuen's work stands somewhat apart from the others in and has no doubt reached the stage of breaking away from his master's influence. The future doubtless holds for him a great career. All the six exhibitors are to be congratulated on their spirited effort to revive the ancient vigour of Chinese Art.

SUMMARY OFFENCE ORDINANCE "

TWO AMENDMENTS BEING MADE

The Gazette contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend further the Summary Offences Ordinance, 1932.

Section 3 (17) of Ordinance No. 40 of 1932 provides that every person shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $250 who, without lawful authority or excuse, in any public place posts up or exhibits, or causes to be posted up or exhibited, any notice or proclamation in the Chinese language without the permission of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs or a District Officer. This paragraph is not to apply to Government notices. . The paragraph in question was taken from paragraph (13D) of section 2 (b) of Ordinance No. 22 of 1930, which was repealed by section 32 of the 1932 Ordinance.

A magisterial decision in 1931, thorough appreciation of this most in spite of the fact that the club was under the 1930 Ordinance, held that modern movement, and of all that it louthit.
